Dear Parents,

School Attendance- The whole school pupil attendance target set for the Ysgol y Llys 2017-18 academic year is 96%. I can inform you that the school attendance between September and December 2017 was 95.2%. In our last school assembly today certificates were given out to those pupils who had 100% attendance for the term. 74 certificates were handed out in total- well done all!

As part of our pastoral family support we will continue to closely monitor pupil attendance. Evidence shows that there is an important link between pupil attendance and pupil achievement whilst in school.

Next term, we will continue with our attendance procedures and will meet with families whose children's attendance is below a certain percentage. We will set this percentage at 85% and will meet with parents in order to establish an action plan for improvement. Please remember, ALL absences are discussed in these meetings- be it sickness absence or unauthorised holiday requests.

Understandably, sickness absences will occur. However, when the absences are frequent and often, it is imperative that families are in discussions with school and other professionals (e.g. school nurse) to support each other in planning improvement. I thank you all in advance for your anticipated support.

Wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year,
Regards,
